

CITIZENS FEEL IT'S A DUD

SUPPORT LACKING

Directors Fear Regatta May 'Fold Up And Die'

The Kelowna International Regatta is in trouble. You'd think Regatta directors would be laughing all the way to the bank after this year's event made a bigger profit than it has in years—but right now they're not even smiling. They're worried because Canada's Greatest Water Show appears to be a dud as far as the citizens of Kelowna are concerned. The problem isn't at the turnstiles; attendance this year was up, thanks mainly to good weather and the record number of tourists who flocked to the city.

But directors feel there just isn't enough local support for participation in the Regatta to enable it to survive as the community event it is supposed to be.

At an executive meeting Thursday night, a discussion on the annual problem of finding a slate of directors wound up with a decision to strike a committee under manager Glen Carleton, whose job it will be to find ways of improving the Regatta's rather lacklustre image locally.

People who have lived here for a number of years will know the dilemma isn't something new and during a lengthy discussion of the matter, director Verlie Peters pointed out that several years ago the prestige aspects of the old Aquatic Association had the advantage of attracting the city's leading citizens, "and they would draw interest and participation from the business community and other groups in town."

"Right now the interest isn't there and neither is the prestige."

The Aquatic Association was replaced by the present Kelowna International Regatta Association and the way it stands now, any resident of School District 23 (Central Okanagan) is a member and entitled to be present at the annual meeting next month, when a new executive will be elected.

Present directors are concerned that most people aren't aware of that fact.

Said director Brent Olsen: "What's needed right now is a PR job in the city to let the people of Kelowna know what the Regatta does for them and how they can get involved. I think Regatta is going to fold up and die unless we really get a campaign going to get people involved and tell them what it's all about."

posts the new Monday notice alongside the previous normal working day listing. The Monday opening was tried many years ago but curtailed when business failed to

Pork, Beef And Egg Prices Raise Canada's Living Cost

OTTAWA (CP) — Led by pork, beef and egg prices, food costs again pushed the general consumer price index to higher levels last month, Statistics Canada reported today.

Food prices rose by 2.2 per cent, the biggest increase in August food prices since before 1961, and the over-all index rose 1.1 points or eight-tenths of one per cent.

The August jump followed closely on July's leap, when food prices jumped 3.6 per cent and shoved the over-all index up 1.7 points or 1.2 per cent.

In dollar terms, it meant that it cost $14.57 last month to buy the food that cost $14.25 in July or $13.75 in June. In August last year, that same food bill was $13.59.

For a broad cross-section of all consumer goods and services, the bill last month was $14.13, up from what could be purchased for $14.02 in July, $13.85 in June, or $13.50 in August last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today wholesale prices in the United States rose faster in the first year of President Nixon's wage-price control than the year before and blamed it on stepped-up price increases for farm products, some of which are exempt from controls.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said a broad range of wholesale prices for food, industrial raw materials and manufactured goods rose an average of two-tenths of one per cent in August, bringing the past year's rise to 4.4 per cent since Nixon first imposed economic controls.

"This compares with a rise of four per cent in the preceding 12 months period," it said. "The larger advance in the latest 12 months was due to an acceleration of prices of raw and processed agricultural products."

Russian Team Arrives In B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Russian national hockey team got the feel of the ice this morning at Pacific Coliseum where they meet team Canada in a late afternoon game today.

The Russians had a one-hour workout from 9 a.m., with proceedings closed to the public. Their audience consisted of about 100 sports reporters and photographers and some hockey officials.

One observer said a lot of concentration was on shooting drills from inside the blue line, mostly a workout for the two Russian goaltenders who have yet to play in the series.

Chartrand Lauds Arab Assassins

MONTREAL (CP) — Union leader Michel Chartrand said Thursday the Palestinians whose actions led to the death of 11 Israeli athletes in Munich Tuesday are "patriots and heroes."

Mr. Chartrand, president of the Montreal council of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, said newspapers have given more importance to the death of the athletes than to the bombing of Hanot and the displacement of Palestinians.

He said the Palestinian actions in Munich were the acts of heroes who were simply taking the only means open to them in their attempts to return to their homeland.

Israel Strikes Back With Revenge Raids

U.S. Denied Gold Medal

MUNICH (AP) — The International Olympic Committee today stripped United States swimmer Rick DeMont of the gold medal he won in the 400-metre freestyle and moved Brad Cooper of Australia into first place, an IOC spokesman announced.

The IOC rejected a U.S. appeal that DeMont be allowed to keep the medal which was taken from him after a positive drug test. The Americans argued the test was positive because of a medication DeMont regularly took for an asthma condition.

DeMont, 16, had beaten Cooper by only one-hundredth of a second.

In taking away his medal, the IOC spokesman said, it was decided that Cooper would move up to the gold medal position and that Steven Genter of the U.S. will move to second from third. But the spokesman said no other places will be changed and the bronze medal position would be left vacant.

In letter to Clifford Buck, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, the IOC said "much of this responsibility must be on your team medical authorities who are hereby severely reprimanded."

The IOC spokesman said no bronze medal is being awarded in the swimming race because the fourth man was not tested for drugs. Routine procedure is to test only the three medal winners within an hour of the end of a race.

Bonn 'Doing Best' To Defuse Arabs

BONN (AP) — The West German government says it is doing all it can to counter the threat of retaliation from Arab terrorists demanding the release of the three guerrillas held for the attack at the Olympics.

The Black September Palestinian group said in a broadcast from Cairo Thursday it would "deal Germany a heavy blow" if the three terrorists are not released.

"We will show the German imperialists, who dragged the honor of the great German people in the mud, what a heavy blow we can deal them if our comrades are not released and the bodies of our dead fighters are not returned to us," the broadcast said.

The spokesman for the West German government, Conrad Ahlers, said "all imaginable and necessary" security precautions have been taken.

Earlier, the interior ministry said it had received word that terrorists plan to mail bombs to Jews in West Germany in packages and letters for the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashana, which begins at sundown today.

There are approximately 32,000 Jews in West Germany, concentrated in such large cities as Berlin, Hamburg, Cologne, Stuttgart, Frankfurt and Munich.

'Device' Found On Jetliner

GANDER, Nfld. (CP) — Airport officials here say RCMP found a "device" aboard an Air France jetliner today and called in a bomb disposal expert.

Airport Assistant Manager Gerry Smith said the Air France 747 jetliner with 360 persons aboard landed at Gander shortly after 1 p.m. NDT and evacuated the passengers.

A brief search by police turned up what was described as a "device" and a bomb disposal expert was being flown to Gander from Stephenville, in western Newfoundland.

No other details were immediately available.

Ten Guerrilla Bases Strafed In Olympics Slaughter Sequel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli air force planes were reported to have struck at 10 Arab guerrilla bases deep inside Syria and Lebanon today, a few hours after Israel promised retaliation for the Munich massacre.

It was also reported unofficially that 29 people had been killed in the raids.

The Israeli jets bombed and strafed guerrilla bases and headquarters, striking within four miles of the Syrian capital of Damascus and far into the north of Lebanon, above the port of Tripoli, the Israeli military command announced.

The raids were the deepest air strikes by Israel inside Syria since the 1967 Mideast war, and the deepest ever into Lebanon.

All the Israeli planes returned safely to base, a command spokesman said.

Sources in Beirut reported the Israeli planes bombed and strafed two villages on the Lebanese-Syrian border, Deir Al Achaya and Yanta. The villages were last hit by the Israelis in July in retaliation for the Lod airport massacre and Palestinian raids into Israel.

There was no immediate confirmation from the Lebanese government.

The two villages, near the Beirut-Damascus highway, are believed to be guerrilla supply points for a road that leads through southern Syria to guerrilla bases on the Lebanese-Israeli border.

The Syrian government had put its armed forces on maximum alert and cancelled all leaves, fearing an Israeli attack.

Israeli forces made an eight-hour raid into southern Lebanon Thursday, but no major fighting or casualties were reported. The Palestinian guerrillas in Beirut charged Israel with an "unprecedented buildup" along the Lebanese and Syrian borders and said they expect retaliation for the Arab attack on Israel's Olympic team.

But the Israelis said the raid Thursday was in reply to a guerrilla incursion across the border Wednesday in which an Israeli soldier and two Arabs were killed.

'Peace Not The Question Today'

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel vowed vengeance today against Arab guerrillas and Foreign Minister Abba Eban indicated the Munich Olympic murders have delayed the diplomatic search for peace in the Middle East.

Calling on world governments to help Israel stamp out Arab terrorism, Eban said "peace is not the question in my mind today."

"The question is how to eliminate this scourge," Eban said. "Denouncing the Arab governments that support the Palestine guerrillas, Eban said Israel will fight terrorists 'to the upper limits of our capacity and our strength.'"

But he refused to disclose what sort of reprisals Israel might take against the guerrillas or the Arab governments that support them.

PEACE IN BACKGROUND At a news conference here, Eban made clear that the search for peace with Israel's Arab neighbors has been pushed into the background by the Olympic killings.

In future meetings with foreign government representatives or at the United Nations, Eban said "I would not talk to them about anything else except this—terrorism."

"This will be in the forefront of our discussions with our colleagues in international gatherings, especially at the United Nations."

Hurricane Speeds On

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Dawn, packing gusts up to 95 miles an hour, drifted about 300 miles off Cape Hatteras, N.C., today and became "a potential threat to the northeast United States coast," the National Hurricane Centre reported.

Dawn was moving toward the north northwest and was expected to curve gradually toward the north during the day and toward the northeast tonight, forecaster Joe Pelissier said.

"The hurricane is expected to skirt the New England coast tonight but any delay in this expected turn increases the threat to the northeast coast of the United States," he said.

Interests between Cape May, N.J., and Cape Cod were particularly urged to keep alert for further advisories from the hurricane centre, Pelissier said. Small craft warnings were displayed along the section of the Atlantic coastline.

Meteorologist Neil Frank said Dawn could increase in size and strength today but added, "there is no potential for a severe storm."

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary William Rogers, saying "private American citizens should not be involved in negotiations" concerning United States prisoners in North Vietnam, has barred James Hoffa from visiting Hanoi.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Joseph Duffy won a $25 savings bond Thursday in a contest to name the city's new fishing pier.

While the civil service says it will accept the application if Miss Andrews succeeds in stretching a quarter-inch, officials warn she still may not get her dream job.

Protestants Count Dead After Battle In Belfast

BELFAST (Reuter) — Bitter Belfast Protestants counted their dead and wounded today after clashes with the British Army in which two civilians were shot to death.

Several others were wounded in a two-hour battle around the Protestant Shankill Road area.

The Protestants, who had previously been on good terms with British troops, expressed shock and anger, and accused the soldiers of using live ammunition against people armed only with bricks and bottles.

On one street off the Shankill Road, residents pointed at pools of blood and bullet holes in houses and said the two persons were shot by paratroopers who they said were given orders to "shoot anything that moves."

Until the last few days it was the Catholic minority who consistently accused the paratroopers of brutality.

But today one Protestant who lives off the Shankill said: "I am beginning to sympathize with the Catholics if they have to live with these animals in their midst."

A statement from the army said the trouble started when a small patrol encountered a 40-member unit of the Ulster Defence Association as it turned into a side street. It said youths in the area started to stone the troops and the patrol backed out of range and fired rubber bullets to disperse the crowd.

"As soon as the UDA and hooligans were clear the army came under fire from gunmen in the area," said the statement.

The army returned the fire and said two persons were killed. The troops suffered no casualties.

But residents in the area told a different story. They said the soldiers came into the neighborhood and fired indiscriminately.

"They went berserk," said one woman.

She told of one man who was driving to work and was fired on by the soldiers. "He fell out of his car and died in the street," she said pointing to a pool of blood.

The residents told of a young boy in the same street who took cover behind a car but was shot three times by troops who fired through the vehicle.

The residents admitted that stones and bottles were thrown at the troops. "But they fired live, high-velocity shots back at us," said one man.

Economic Blackmail

If we correctly understood what we read, Herman Kahn's theory is that the United States can easily get all its raw material and energy imports from countries other than Canada.

Or, with only a little more difficulty, it can make itself totally self-sufficient and the hell with the rest of the world.

Whatever he may have told all those Ottawa experts about the international economic environment, this was the message he wanted to get across to the Canadian people.

Mr. Kahn is the director of the Hudson Institute which does extensive research into such matters, so Mr. Kahn speaks with some authority.

His message to the Canadian people just might backfire, for, after all, he does paint a rather tempting picture.

Imagine, no more diplomatic wrangling over automotive free trade, since there would be no trade, free or otherwise.

No more flooding of huge territories to produce electricity for New York, Spokane and Seattle air conditioners.

Most of the pulpwood forests could stand forever, not needed for mangling into newsprint. The Canadian-U.S. dollar exchange rate would cease to matter, because we would have nothing to buy or sell across the border. And, since we Canadians would have considerably less daily work to do, we could paddle our lakes and go ice fishing and ponder on all that nervous hustle and smoky clangor to the south.

We would even be rid of some internal arguments, for the issue of U.S. control of Canadian industry would be resolved in a trice—who'd want them with the U.S. market shut?

And then... but hold! The Kahn doctrine says Canada is not doing the United States any favor by selling it things; on the contrary the United States is doing us a favor. So, if U.S. capital is heavily invested in Canadian development in order to profit from U.S. purchases, who's doing a favor to whom?

And then, too, if the United States sends all its exportable money to Siberia (now there's an ideologically attractive area for private capital!) there won't be any left here to pay directors of U.S. research institutes to come here and chill our spines in the middle of August.

Sir Francis Undeclared

(Victoria Times)

It is easiest to think of Sir Francis Chichester as part Viking seafarer, part knight in search of the Holy Grail. Seafaring was in his blood, his answer to the challenge of life and adventure; the Grail he sought was the supreme fulfillment of a man alone in his boat on the open sea. It was entirely appropriate that, following his single-handed circumnavigation of the globe under sail, the island kingdom that produced Hudson, Drake, Raleigh and a host of historic mariners should have conferred on him a title at the hands of his sovereign.

"I was cut out for solo jobs," he said of himself late in life. That knowledge fortified him for death, the great adventure which everyone must face alone. "I don't want to live too long," Chichester said, "I just want to enjoy the years that are left."

It was that philosophy which led him to set out on the solo trans-Atlantic race earlier this year. Weak and shaking in his 71st year, but brushing off the advice of his doctors, he set out from Plymouth as a stricken man might set out for home to find contentment. After days of radio silence and world-wide concern, Sir Francis was found by a searching plane. "I have been ill," he signalled.

It was an illness from which he was not to recover. But even his death was not defeat. For he had done what he wanted, he had faced the elements and triumphed. As few men can be, he had been the captain of his soul and the master of his ship and his fate. In an era of group experience and commonality, of brain-washing and state security, he was his own man.

Firemen's Wage Increase

(Kamloops Sentinel)

The fantastic 26 per cent wage increase given Kamloops fire fighters demands much further explanation than simply talk of tough bargaining.

Any group of persons who receive a salary increase of that nature either were grossly underpaid previously or faced a group of bargainers who had little consideration for the taxpayers they were supposed to represent.

Since the increase puts fire fighters wages for a five-year man at $921 per month next year, it is difficult to accept any argument the men were underpaid all that much. A great many of the people who will be paying their salary would be most happy to draw wages in that realm.

It should be pointed out at this juncture the matter of hours, effort or responsibility are not at issue. Fire fighters are a necessary and valuable part of municipal services. They are just as valuable and just as necessary if they are rarely called to a fire, and they are working even if not fighting a fire.

The point at issue is the amount of the increase in wages given them, and the justification for it.

Mayor Gordon Nicol seems to have justified it simply by talking about tough bargaining.

One would think less of the fire fighters if they were not tough bargainers.

The fact is, the 26 per cent settlement leaves one wondering whether city councillors, or the Okanagan Mainline Municipal Labor Relations Association, which represented the city, were tough bargainers, as they should have been.

Labor contracts, particularly those involving public employees, should be based on justice to the workers and a consideration of the people who will pay the bill. Taxpayers want to pay as little as possible, but not at the expense of underpaid public servants. On the other hand, they do not want to be so generous with their money as to have employees get more than their due.

If a 26 per cent increase can be justified, taxpayers will accept it, even if reluctantly.

However, more justification is necessary than to simply say the fire fighters are tough bargainers.

THE CAT AND THE CANARY

QUEBEC PRESS SAYS:

Trudeau Now Confirms What We Had Suspected

This is a selection of editorials on current topics, translated from the French-language press of Canada.

Montreal Le Devoir: Since the dissolution of Parliament, Pierre Elliott Trudeau has been eager to confirm what we already suspected, that the Liberals are once again campaigning on the theme of national unity which has brought them such success since the beginning of the century.

This time they are speaking of national integrity rather than so-called national unity.

They are trying for the 100th time to prove that national unity (their version) is the most burning question of the hour and that only one party exists which is capable of keeping Canada united. In any other country than Canada, one would take to task a party which makes use of such a serious theme rather than solving the problems it hides. Spotlighting policies which tend to maintain a problem rather than finding a solution for it will not help to clear up the uncertain climate which continues to haunt Canada's future.

Even if the magic of 1968 has pretty well disappeared, it would be imprudent to minimize the powers of seduction which the Liberal leader has retained since his return to his favorite theme. It is to be hoped the election will hinge on other subjects. It is, however, doubtful such themes as economic and foreign policy can rouse the electors to the same level of interest.

The fate of the Trudeau government will not be sealed in Quebec, but rather in Ontario and British Columbia. It seems the Liberal party could lose ground in these two provinces. The policy of bilingualism, economic policy, the style of the prime minister and some of his colleagues has left some people with disagreeable memories.

Claude Ryan (Sept. 2)

Ottawa Le Droit: Several hundred travellers, after a long stay overseas, have discovered...

...that their return tickets on charter flights were no longer recognized by airlines. They have been stranded in Canada, France as well as Switzerland and having got a substantial reduction on the price of their tickets, end up having to spend more money in order to return home. The consulates have been invaded by tourists in distress. Individuals who sold tickets at reduced prices are facing legal proceedings. Others have already been driven to bankruptcy.

There are two legal means to avoid the full price to travel to Europe: either a 21- or 45-day excursion ticket or travel by charter flight after registering six months in advance with an existing association which organizes the flight.

The laws regulating air travel are often broken by clubs or organizations which exist for the sole purpose of taking advantage of reduced rates. It is these fictitious groups that are the cause of the nightmare which in the last two weeks has hit tourists travelling at reduced rates.

Charter flights cancelled at the last minute are multiplying. To save our country's reputations and travellers' comfort, the government must put an end to this new form of piracy.

Fulgence Charpentier (Aug. 31)

Moncton L'Evangeline: The debate on the merits of the department of regional economic expansion has come to the fore again.

Everyone is attacking the department claiming it has done too much for some regions or that its efforts in certain other regions have been too weak.

The minister of regional economic expansion, Jean Marchand, has borne these criticisms with a lot of patience. In the last few weeks he has launched a campaign to defend the policies of his department.

The minister has replied to accusations he has given grants to some industries which have not created new jobs. Mr. Marchand has said it is necessary not only to create new jobs, but also to conserve jobs. This is why the department has subsidized some companies so that they can modernize themselves and thus prevent bankruptcy.

Different governments and organizations in the Atlantic provinces say the department has not attained its goals in this region. It is true that we are not witnessing a great industrial revolution.

The least that can be said of DREE is that it has prevented the gap between the Atlantic and other Canadian provinces from becoming any wider.

We must not delude ourselves. There will be no economic miracle. Social and economic conditions can be appreciably improved but unemployment and immigration will be problems which will continue to haunt the economists and our politicians for years to come.

It is still too soon to judge whether the policies of Mr. Marchand's department have been effective or not. With a little time, the department may possibly discover the beginnings of a solution.

THE WORLD TODAY

Two World Wars Shaped Canadians

JOHN D. HARBON
Foreign Affairs Analyst
Thomson News Service

September was the month—33 long years ago—when the world went to war for the second time in the Twentieth Century. In this emerging fall of 1972, the dates of declarations of war against Germany Sept. 3 for Britain, Sept. 10 for us, are as much ancient history as that earlier date, Aug. 4, 1914, when the British Empire went to war.

Those who were in uniform and overseas before Christmas, 1939, and survived, now are in their middle years or in the declining time of their lives.

This columnist was a boy, who would nevertheless not escape events because of the length of the Second World War. Yet, the fact almost 35 years separates us from that desperate month, is a hard one to accept.

Even more difficult for those who did serve—and remember—is another fact most living Canadians were born after the war was over. A vibrant, go-ahead 25-year-old Canadian thinks of September, 1939, if at all, as a dry-as-dust date comparable with 1914.

WHO REMEMBERS?

Nevertheless, all of us, "war babies" of the 1940s, along with the generation which fought and remembers, are products of a century largely shaped by the two world wars. After 1945, we came to realize perhaps cynically, certainly realistically, that many of the advances in aviation, medicine, surgery, chemical drugs, industrial engineering were forced on us by war's needs.

The young, who weren't around and therefore have no memories, are the ones, nevertheless, who remind the warrior generation this kind of technological progress developed hand-in-hand with the worst human depravity and barbarism.

No sulfa drugs without the death camps.

But the war continues to fascinate, young and old. The Second World War retold in historically-accurate postwar movies—and even in the revived, wartime potboilers, filled with crude anti-Japanese and anti-German propaganda—is popular stuff.

Movies are backed up by endless war books, some of them masterpieces about military and political leaders, others, series of paperbacks for the specialists on military aircraft, warships and uniforms of the Second World War.

Exposés in all the media, most effectively perhaps in the theatre, reveal rightly or wrongly, the real roles of famous leaders during the Second World War. Perhaps the most controversial of these has nothing to do with battles, generals or admirals. This is the controversial Ralph Hochhuth play alleging the late Pope Pius XII ignored the plight of the Jews in Europe and refused to intervene with Hitler to save them.

NEW VILLAINS?

A second Hochhuth play about Churchill's role as a wartime leader, views him as the harsh and ruthless planner of devastating air raids of German cities which had no basic military purpose in mind, only terror bombing to hasten the war's end.

In fact, the war's end fate of Dresden, fire-bombed in February, 1945, with Nazi Germany on the brink of defeat, is a story of wanton destruction of a city unparalleled even by the later atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. More people died in the Dresden fire bombings than in either of the two flattened Japanese cities.

Less exposed in the 1970s, is whether without the two world wars we would still be living in a declining Victorian age, by now more than a century old, the arts, science and moral values waiting for some cataclysmic event to bring a breakthrough and a new age of reason.

Well, 1914 and 1939 gave us the cataclysms. We wait now, for that new age of reason.

CANADA'S STORY

British End Battle At Fort Edward

By BOB BOWMAN

On Aug. 9, the story was told of how Gen. Montcalm tried to save English prisoners who were being murdered by Indians on the march from Fort William Henry to Fort Edward in 1757. Montcalm shouted to the Indians: "Kill me, but spare the English who are under my protection," and begged to get the situation under control.

There was a somewhat similar incident in the same area on Sept. 8, 1755. It was during the preliminary skirmishing of the Seven Year's War which led to Britain capturing Canada from France.

In 1755 the British, under Sir William Johnson, built a chain of forts from the Hudson River to Lake Champlain including Fort Edward and Fort William Henry.

The French, led by German-born Baron Dieskau, organized a well-planned attack on the area. Dieskau had 200 regulars from the Regiment de la Reine, 700 Canadian militia, and 600 Indians. He ordered the Indians not to do any scalping until the battle had been won saying that they could kill 10 men for the time it took to scalp one of them.

The battle took place at Fort Edward on Sept. 8, 1755, and went in favor of the Canadians at first. Gaspard, the fire from the fort killed the officers and men of the Regiment de la Reine who made a gallant stand. Then Dieskau was wounded and his Indians got out of control and began scalping. They were killed in a counter-attack and Dieskau was taken prisoner.

Sir William Johnson, who was also wounded, had Dieskau brought to his tent and his wounds treated before he permitted any treatment for his own.

Then Johnson's Indians got out of control and invaded his tent screaming for Dieskau's scalp.

Dieskau, who was taken to Britain as a prisoner, later reported what happened. He asked Johnson what the Indians were screaming and Johnson replied: "To burn you, by God, eat you and smoke you in their pipes in revenge for three or four chiefs that were killed." Then Johnson added: "Never fear, you shall be safe with me, or else they shall kill us both."

Hair To Be Important 'Guest' At Meeting Planned In City

Arrangements for the annual Okanagan Regional convention of the Hairdressers' Association of British Columbia were completed at the last post-convention meeting of the Kelowna Hairdressers' Professional Club who will be hosting the all-day event Sunday at Capri.

Keeping in mind KHPC's code of ethics, "To treat fellow members in a friendly and co-operative manner and to encourage and facilitate the interchange of ideas in order to improve the services and standards of our trade," motivation for the program planners was "Professionalism is established through the medium of conventions."

Thus an exciting and full schedule of events from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. includes competitions, demonstrations, judging and trophy presentations.

Sponsored by the Hairdressers' Association of B.C. the format of the event features guest artists and representation of executive members. Mr. Lawrence and associates from Vancouver will highlight the day program with demonstrations. Mr. Lawrence, who will preside as emcee, is an international judge and hair stylist.

Members are looking forward to the satisfaction of platform presentations executed to perfection with a wealth of information and professional knowledge.

Mr. Lawrence has been a National Canadian Hairdressers and Cosmetologists' Association Master Judge since 1970. To become a NCHCA judge can take years to add up the qualifications necessary. One must have past participation, competitions and experience at local, provincial and international levels. Following proof of that selection is based on attendance and examination at the NCHCA seminar to establish master judges in Canada. Mr. Lawrence has gone one further and will preside as an International Master Judge at the Hairdressers' Olympics held in Japan in 1975.

Highlighting the competitions will be the Day Style contest for the mature woman; Teen contest which has an open trend and a 'do your own thing' theme. This will be most interesting as the profession is always on the lookout for creative ideas to serve the youth of today.

BIG EVENT

The Big competition of the day is the district contest. To qualify for this entry, an entrant must be a winner of a preliminary contest on a first award in any other except the grand champion of master artist competitions. Anyone with a 'grand' or a 'master' has to wait three years before they can enter into the district competition.

At 10 a.m. colleagues from the Penitentiary study group will present creative men's hair styling.

The afternoon demonstration by Ker Brown and his associate of Vernon will feature blow waving and the curl iron.

Competitors are expected from Revelstoke, Nelson and Chilliwack.

Staged at 3:30 p.m. is an answer session to the questions deposited in the suggestion box by members.

Presentation of trophies will be done by former Okanagan winners and Miss Rutland, Diane Stein, who will also take part in the door prize draws later.

A buffet lunch, dinner and cocktail hour have been scheduled for members and guests. Saved for the evening entertainment open to the public from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. will be a most interesting, sophisticated competition, The Beautiful People Contest. An open entry, this competition is judged on the total look. The panel of judges is made up of prominent business, television and radio personnel from this community.

Tickets for this event may be obtained from Kelowna beauty salons or at the door.

A special experience during this program will be a hair styling demonstration by Mr. Lawrence. There will also be a suggestion box for the public only, to enter their ideas, which will be answered by Mr. Lawrence.

Proceeds from this phase of the program will be donated to the new senior citizens complex, with Mrs. Ursula Benisen, vice-president of Club 17 representing the seniors.

Couple Marks Fiftieth Year

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harlow celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family reunion at their home at 1426 Cherry Crescent, Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow were married at Prince Rupert Sept. 5, 1922 and resided there until 1928 at which time they moved to Prince George. Mr. Harlow was employed as roadmaster with the Canadian National Railway. He retired in 1954 and moved to Kelowna.

Out-of-town guests were the couple's three sons with their families: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harlow and Gretchen, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Harlow, Janice, Jim, Bob and Joanne, Prince George; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harlow with Suzanne and Grant, Kamloops. Mrs. Harlow's sister, Mrs. L. E. Macey from Vancouver.

A. L. Grant, Mrs. Harlow's brother and best man at the wedding phoned from Thunder Bay to add his congratulations to the happy occasion.

The regional meeting is to be held in Osoyoos on Sept. 29 and a trip to Mica Dam is scheduled for Sept. 18.

Yet, contact the local bar association in your community. They may have a volunteer committee that offers assistance—or they might refer you to a source of help.

HITHER and YON

Deborah Stringer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Stringer, Lakeview Heights, has just returned from a seven-week tour of England and Scotland. While in England she made her headquarters with Major and Mrs. Clibby Fitzwilliams, Healing, Grimsby, Lincolnshire. Mrs. Fitzwilliams is Mr. Stringer's cousin. While in England she visited many of Mr. Stringer's relatives and friends.

Charles Robin Stringer has returned to UBC after having spent the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Stringer of Lakeview Heights.

Theresa Huska spent the summer as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Stringer of Lakeview Heights. She has returned to her Vancouver residence.

Many friends gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schoenfeld of Brookside Avenue on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. A delicious buffet supper was served during the function held on Sept. 2 in the Rutland Centennial Hall. Among the numerous gifts presented was a set of silver flatware. Mr. Schoenfeld is president of the German Canadian Harmonie Club.

ANN LANDERS

A M.A. Degree In Love Requisite For Child Care

Dear Ann Landers: Physicians and lawyers must earn their academic credentials before they can hang out their shingles. We don't send a pre-med student into the operating room to perform brain surgery. Why then do we expect inexperienced, untrained people to know how to raise children? I suggest a required course in all high schools.

Surely raising children is the most important job most of us have. Yet how many of us are qualified? Doesn't it make sense to get some instruction instead of perpetuating mistakes from one generation to another? There are so many messed up kids in the world today, why doesn't someone get the message? What are your views, Ann?—M.C. in M.

Dear M.C.: Although most of us could profit from a course on child-raising, it's not what we now about raising children but how we feel about them that counts. To begin with, the best gift parents can bestow upon their children is to love one another. That's where a child's attitudes toward life begin. All the instruction in the world can't create an atmosphere of love and acceptance if none exists. Furthermore, not all people who have knowledge can apply it to their own lives. Witness the number of overweight (or alcoholic) physicians who smoke cigarettes. Also, note the disproportionate number of psychiatrists with personality disorders and unresolved problems—not to mention the children of many of these "experts." Get the picture? I hope so.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the angry wife whose husband wanted to go to office party without her (no wives or husbands allowed) made me so furious I got a headache.

About 10 years ago most of the big companies in America got smart and put an end to the traditional office Christmas party. They finally realized it was a waste of money and nothing good came of it. Too many people got drunk and did things that made them ashamed to show their faces Monday morning. What was intended to be a good-will gesture laid the groundwork for a lot of after-hours monkey shins.

The wise corporation heads know that business and pleasure don't mix. Almost without exception, when the executives get chummy with the secretaries, stenographers and file clerks, the end result is trouble. Office parties are not business and anyone who thinks otherwise is stupid.

I know what I am talking about, Ann. I lost a husband after 23 years at an office party in Flatbush—Living Witness

Dear Living: Thanks for the autobiography. There's an old Spanish saying—"A wise man never dances on the same table his food is on."

Retired Citizens Council Backed By Mayor's Wife At Club 17

A movement to form a Retired Citizens' Council in Kelowna was sparked by Mrs. Hilbert Roth, the mayor's wife, when she spoke to the first regular fall meeting of Club 17, Kelowna, of the Senior Citizens' Association of British Columbia.

Mrs. Roth, who is chairing an advisory committee set up by the Social Planning Council of Kelowna, urged those present to pool their energies and resources so that they could work together to overcome some of their problems, e.g., inadequate housing, transport, difficulties and high living costs. The committee felt that the various retired citizens' clubs could take part in this co-operative project without in any way losing their individual identities.

The advisory committee, she told them consisted of J. F. Gordon, a lawyer; Dr. F. E. Anderson, a physician; Lu McComb, a public health nurse; Patricia Brown, social planning committee; Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith, councillor for the British Columbia division of aging; Mrs. Elsie Clark, health care co-ordinator and Mrs. Roth, co-ordinator of Meals on Wheels.

Interested elderly citizens, both as clubs and individuals, could join in forming a Retired Citizens' Council by following these guidelines: The council would be representative of all retired citizens—not just club members, but extended care hospital patients, boarding home residents, shut-ins and independent self-sufficient retired individuals in the community, Mrs. Roth said.

FEELS' PROBLEMS

She also suggested that council members should be aware of the problems of their peers and take an active interest in solving these problems and further that the advisory committee would be available to provide vide information and consultation, but that the proposed RCC will 'do their own thing' by establishing priorities and working toward the solutions of their own problems.

As a result of a July meeting of the advisory committee, which pinpointed 10 main areas which needed further study, Mrs. Roth listed five which would be particularly suited for the Retired Citizens' Council to tackle through group study and action: 1. health care costs, 2. recreation and 3. consumer problems.

Appointed to represent Club 17 on the proposed council were, president Ed Hicks, Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith, Mrs. May Bird and Mrs. Jim Weir, who will all attend the Oct. 16 meeting at the Health Unit Annex on Queensway Avenue.

Also approved by the good turnout of the 510 members of the club was a motion to honor members who have worked with dedicated enthusiasm during the past 12 years of the club, with life memberships.

Mrs. Ella Harris, Mrs. Jim Weir and Mrs. Marie Larsen reported on the provincial convention held in June. To date there are 8,500 members in 80 senior citizen clubs in British Columbia.

Expenses will be paid for the president to attend the Senior Citizens' Provincial Board to which he was nominated as a member at the New Westminster convention.

The upcoming hairdressers' convention to be held in Kelowna on Sunday plans a donation to Club 17. Reduced prices for hairdos on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays were available to senior citizens, they were informed.

The regional meeting is to be held in Osoyoos on Sept. 29 and a trip to Mica Dam is scheduled for Sept. 18.

MISHAKOV MAKES A MOVE

Eugeny Mishakov of Russia makes a move to go around Team Canada player Gary Bergman during first period action of the third game in a eight-game series Wednesday night in Winnipeg. The game ended in a 4-4 deadlock with both teams picking up a victory in the first two games. The two teams go at it to night in the fourth game in Vancouver, which ends the Canadian half of the series.

Sinden Juggles Team Canada Series Reaches Half-Way Mark

VANCOUVER (CP) — Pain is synonymous with Serge Savard.

The young Montreal Canadiens defenceman missed most of the last two National Hockey League seasons recuperating from a broken leg.

But this year had to be different.

Twelve hours before Team Canada embarked Thursday for Vancouver, and tonight's fourth game in the Russia-Canada exhibition series, Savard was overly optimistic about his future.

He'd played in only 40 games in two seasons because of the two breaks on the same right leg. Then with the leg almost 100 per cent, along came the chance to perform for Team Canada.

Savard missed the first game, but in the ensuing two emerged as one of the Canadian team's more consistent performers, a surprising situation in view of his incapacity.

"It's (the leg) coming along real good in camp," the 6-foot-2, 200-pounder said Wednesday night after the 4-4 tie with the Soviets. "Two more weeks and it'll be 100 per cent for the series overseas."

After tonight's game, to be carried nationally on the CTV network starting at 5 p.m. EDT (8 p.m. EDT). The series moves to Moscow for games Sept. 22, 24, 26 and 28.

"I don't think I'm in shape just yet, but what can you expect? I've only played 40 games in the last two seasons."

PUCK HIT ANKLE

As Team Canada worked out Thursday morning, Savard stopped a team mate's shot with his right ankle, just below the previous breaks, and on the trip to Vancouver had to have the injury attended to by physiotherapist Karl Elleff.

Although he was among 21 names coach Harry Sinden said probably would be in the lineup tonight, Sinden admitted he'd have to cut two by game time, it was apparent Savard was suffering considerable discomfort.

Shortly after the players booked into their hotel here, Sinden announced that Savard would not dress, leaving Team Canada with five defencemen.

The number that played in Russia's 7-3 win in the first game at Montreal.

Sinden also juggled his forward lines, dressing Dennis

SERGE SAVARD ... no dressing

Hull, Bill Goldsworthy and Gilbert Perrault, who haven't seen action in the first three games.

The fourth line sees New York Rangers linemates Vic Hadfield and Rod Gilbert flanking Peter Mahovlich of Montreal.

The Russians, meanwhile, held an informal news conference after their arrival in which coach Vsevolod Bobrov suggested he would not mind having any of the National Hockey League players that have held his club to a win and a tie in three games.

Earlier, in Winnipeg following an early-morning workout, the Russian coach said he expects to "make several alterations" from Wednesday night's lineup.

"It will be nearly the same team as we had for the first game in Montreal," coach Bobrov said through interpreter Viktor Katorin. "Not all the kids will play."

"The kids" were a trio of 21-year-olds in their first year with the Russian national team—Vyacheslav Anisin, Alexander Bodunov and Yuri Lebedev—who contributed the final two Soviet goals in a comeback from a 4-2 deficit.

"It was my first examination of them as a line, and they did very well," Bobrov said. "I will give them some games in Moscow, but I want to use all the players who are here."

He said some of the players have "not been feeling well."

Intended to use Viktor Zinger in goal Wednesday night but he was not feeling well at that time.

Veteran Vladimir Vuklov, who injured his shoulder in the Montreal game, may play tonight as well as Eugene Zimin, struck in the chest with a puck in practice and forced out of the lineup Wednesday. Defenceman Eugeny Poladyev has a leg injury.

Bobrov admitted that while the Czechoslovakians now rule as world amateur champions after their final-game victory over the Russians in Prague earlier this year, the Canadian team would have little trouble with them.

"If they played the same ice hockey team as they are here, the Canadians would win against the Czechs. ... They (the Czechs) don't like body checks."

After Monday's game in Toronto, in which the Soviet players seemed to wilt under the relentless checking of the Canadians, there was some question as to whether the Russians could absorb much body punishment.

Doubts were removed in Game Three. The visitors both absorbed the checks and replied with some stiff defensive work of their own. Asked to explain the change in the players, Bobrov said:

"We just went to our players and told them to collect their nerve. That is the reason they played so well."

Red Sox Whip NY Move To Top Spot

By HERSHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Never before has one game meant so much to so many Sox. In Boston, the Red Sox trounced New York Yankees 10-4 Thursday night and moved into first place in the top-heavy American League East for the first time all season.

In Chicago, the White Sox whipped Oakland Athletics 6-0 and remained within hailing distance in the West Division, three games behind the Athletics.

Elsewhere, Baltimore Orioles crushed Detroit Tigers 9-0, Minnesota Twins blanked Texas Rangers 4-0, Kansas City Royals stopped California Angels 6-0 and Milwaukee Brewers whipped Cleveland Indians 7-1.

"It doesn't surprise me that we're in first place," said Boston Manager Eddie Kasko. "I felt that any team with a hot streak would get into first place the way the division stands."

The Red Sox have won three in a row and 11 of 13 and had their fans chanting "We're Number One" in the ninth inning while the scoreboard showed Baltimore walloping Detroit.

HEARD CROWD ROAR

"I heard the fans yelling," said pitcher Sonny Siebert, who hit one of Boston's three home runs, "but I wasn't watching the scoreboard and I didn't make the connection."

Neither was Tommy Harper, who, along with Rico Petrocelli, tagged a three-run homer.

The Red Sox didn't have much to worry about after Harper homered in the second inning and Siebert and Petrocelli connected in the sixth. They lead Detroit by one-half game, with Baltimore 1½ out and New York two back.

Baltimore erupted for four runs in the opening frame and three more in the second.

Detroit manager Billy Martin pulled relief ace Fred Scherman out of the bullpen for his third major league start but quickly yanked him after the Orioles opened with singles by Bobby Grich and Paul Blair and a two-run double by Tommy Davis.

Brooks Robinson and Blair later added two-run triples in support of Mike Cuellar's fourth pitching.

"This one put us back in business," said skipper Chuck Tanner. "We had to do it, and the league's most valuable player and the guy who's going to win the Cy Young Award did it together. It had to be our biggest game of the year. If we'd lost this one it would have dropped us five games behind."

Minnesota's Jim Perry, Dave LaRoche and Wayne Granger combined to handout Texas on four hits. The Twins scored their first two runs on an error by centre fielder Joe Lovitto while Bobby Darwin and Phil Roof added run-scoring hits later.

Carlton Keeps On Winning

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

"Let's go, let's go," said catcher John Bateman of Philadelphia Phillies.

"Don't tell me what to do," said umpire Shag Crawford.

"I'm not telling you what to do," said Bateman.

"Bleep you," said Crawford.

And that little "bleep" will get Crawford into hot water with the National League front office, according to Bateman.

The catcher says he's reporting the umpire for using abusive language during Thursday night's 2-1 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

"I'm reporting his bleep," said Bateman, describing the alleged fifth-inning incident.

Bateman said that he objected to the plate umpire's call on a pitch thrown by Steve Carlton. Bateman insisted it was a strike, not a ball as called by Crawford.

Bateman said he would write a letter to National League president Chub Feeney about the incident. "I've paid fines for saying less than that," said Bateman.

In the umpire's dressing room, Crawford was mad. "Bleep him," said Crawford. "That's what I told him and I'm saying it again. That bleeping butcher. He's a beggar—begging for strikes."

The excitement in Philadelphia created a stir in an otherwise dull September of runaway division races. Pittsburgh Pirates hold a 12½-game lead in the East after Thursday night's 4-2 loss to Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds are 7½ games in front in the West despite losing a double-header to San Diego Padres 2-0 and 5-1.

Houston Astros defeated San Francisco Giants 5-1 in 13 innings; Montreal Expos turned back New York Mets 4-0 and Atlanta Braves stopped Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in the National League's other contests.

The Bateman-Crawford confrontation couldn't ruffle the steady Carlton, who posted his 23rd victory. "I'm still shooting for 25," said Carlton, shrugging off a reporter's suggestion that he had a crack at a 30-game-winning season with the lowly Phillies. "I don't want to get greedy."

Herron Shows Lions He Can Run Over You Or Under You

WINNIPEG (CP) — British Columbia Lions' coach Eagle

Keys said before Thursday's clash with Winnipeg Blue Bombers he was highly impressed with the performance of Winnipeg running back Mack Herron.

The five-foot-five, 170-pound back gave the Lions' head man more reason to be impressed Thursday night, combining with running mate Ed Williams to lead Winnipeg to a 42-7 thrashing of B.C. in a Western Football Conference game.

Herron scored two touchdowns, raising his Canadian Football League-leading total to 12, and Williams picked up three majors in sparking the Winnipeg club back into a tie for first place in the WFC with Edmonton Eskimos, both with 10 points.

"You either can't see him, or he's running over top of you," Keys said. "On one play he's a hurdler, leaping over tacklers."

R. J. Bennett Performs Well

R. J. Bennett, of the Kelowna Riding Club, riding Stockbroker, gave a successful performance at the PNE Horse Show recently, by picking up a first, two seconds and a third place finish.

Bennett came out on top in the Gambler's Choice event, was runner-up in the Fault and Out and placed third in the Open Jumper. He was also runner-up in the Porter Cup Jump Off, which is one of the major events with a jump of 5' 9".

One of Bennett's future competitions will be his most important of the year, as he will compete in the Northwest International Horse Show in Vancouver at the end of September, which is the biggest show of the year.

A large number of Kelowna Riding Club members have joined Bennett this weekend in Armstrong where they will all compete in the various events of the Armstrong Fair's Horse Show.

Then he's running under their armpits. And he's shown he can run right over people, if necessary."

Herron did all of those things Thursday night, carrying the ball 20 times for 149 yards and catching four passes for 78 more. The second-year Bomber now has 791 yards rushing, more than 200 in front of his nearest rival.

WILLIAMS LIT FIRE

But it was Williams who lit the fire under the powerful Winnipeg offence before 25,210 fans.

After quarterback Don Jones had two passes picked off in the first quarter, Williams broke off left tackle for 47 yards early in the second quarter. Three plays later the fullback bulled his way up the middle for the final eight yards and the first of his three major scores.

Less than three minutes later the Lions made their most crucial mistake of the night. Defensive halfback Wayne Holm was tagged with pass interference on Jim Thorpe in the Lions' end zone and that moved the ball from the B.C. 27 to the one-yard line.

Herron took it over from there and the Bombers were on their way to victory. By the end of the first half it was 21-0 for Winnipeg and coach Jim Spavital's troops had the game well under control.

Tommy Pharr, playing quarterback for the final quarter, scored the other Winnipeg touchdown on a seven-yard run. Jones converted all six.

John Musso, scored B.C.'s fourth-quarter touchdown and Ted Gerela converted it.

Winnipeg had 262 yards rushing and 281 passing as Jones, Pharr and Kramer completed 17 of 35 attempts. The Lions had 281 yards passing on 18 completions in 33 attempts.

Senior C Men's Softball Tourney Starts Tonight

Ten teams, including seven from the local area, will compete in a Senior C Men's softball tournament this weekend in King's Stadium.

The local teams include East Kelowna, Winfield, Kelowna Colts, Rutland Labatts, Kelowna Macs, Royal Ann Royals and Kelowna Labatts. Visiting clubs include last year's tournament winner Beaverdel, while teams from Bridesville and Edgewood will also be entered. The double-knockout tourney is set to start at 7:30 p.m. tonight and finish with the final game at 6:30 Sunday.

Most of the teams that are entered were also in the Winfield tourney that was held last month, and if the same calibre of softball is played fans should see some very exciting action this weekend.

Tournament draw (first round): Friday, 7:30 p.m. East Kelowna vs. Winfield; 9 p.m. Kelowna Colts vs. Rutland Labatts; Saturday, 9 a.m. Kelowna Labatts vs. Kelowna Macs; 10:30 a.m. Bridesville vs. Edgewood; 12 noon Beaverdel vs. Royal Ann Royals.

MINOR HOCKEY

Kelowna Minor Hockey registration for youths living within the city of Kelowna or participants of last year's hockey program will be held Saturday in the arena foyer from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Birth certificates must be shown for new registrations plus proof of Kelowna residency.

Weekend Fishing Was Only Fair

By JIM TREADGOLD

There is definitely a nip of fall in the air these mornings, the cooler air and less sunshine will make for good fishing over the next few weeks. The past long Labor Day weekend saw the last of the big crowds fishing our mountain lakes, and fishing pressures will decrease rapidly now.

Reports from the past weekend are quite varied, but in general fishing was only fair. A few nice-sized trout have been reported out of Okanagan Lake. The largest weighed in to date for September is one of 10 lbs. 7 oz. caught by Dale Chisholm. The largest trout weighed in for August also came from Okanagan Lake, a 10 lb. 12 oz. taken by Larry Gorley. Les Harvey had one of 9 lbs. 3 oz. which took third prize in the August derby, with second prize going to Ken Tuddenham for his 9 lbs. 5 oz. salmon. Frank Coles weighed in a 4 lb. 7 oz. Kokanee catch from Okanagan Lake for the Kokanee prize. Mark McKibbin weighed in a 3 lb. 7 oz. trout from Jimmy Lake to take the junior fly fishing club prize. Other big fish weighed in for September have been a 26 lb. 2 oz. salmon by Jim Martin, a 16 lb. 9 oz. salmon by Jim Duma and a 19 lb. 4 oz. salmon by Armand Vermette.

A number of the large spring salmon are being taken in the Thompson River in the Chase-Pritchard area. These are taken on roe and large spoons like the No. 5 FST trolling from boats. Some smaller jack salmon are also being caught. This fishing will last another two weeks.

Beaver Lake and the Dee chain areas have been fair, fall fishing is generally quite good on these waters. Lots of accommodation and boats at these resorts at this time.

Oyama Lake reports have been good to poor. This lake is well stocked and has trout to 4 lbs. Oyama has always been noted for good fall fishing. Gary Topham reports fair success in Brenda Lake. This is a nice body of water that does not get fished as much as it should. Road to Brenda via the mine is very good.

Pennask has been holding up very well and one can expect a limit catch here if one is persistent. Hatheume is fair and is producing some trout in the near 2 lb. size. Pinnacle Lake has been fished quite a lot this past week with access over the new road put in by the Fish and Game Club. Some nice catches have been reported.

Postill, Heron, South and Meadow lakes are a good bet for fall fishing, road in is good and there is accommodation and boats. This is a very nice area in the fall.

The McCulloch lakes are fair with Browne Lake giving up the better catches.

At a recent meeting of the Fish and Game Club it was decided to recommend that Hydraulic Lake and chain be rehabilitated. This means irrigating these waters of all the coarse and undesirable fish and replanting with trout. The Fish and Wildlife Branch will be asked to study this matter and if feasible to do it as soon as possible.

The club is also asking that Porcupine Lake near Cameron Lake in the Bear Lake area be stocked. This is a very nice small lake that has recently had access to it put in by logging. The club is also asking that Hatheume Lake be restricted to motors no larger than 10 HP. It was recently reported that persons were water skiing on this lake to the detriment of the fishermen. Also being recommended is that Pinnacle Lake be a fly fishing only lake.

The club has applied for the permit to release 50 wild turkeys in this area. These will be purchased by the club from Armstrong where they have been raised and released for two years.

The hunting season in nearby GMAs got started last weekend with buck deer being legal game in GMA Nos. 5 and 8. There were a few mule bucks taken in the Kettle drainage areas of the Greystokes. Grouse also opened in these two areas but reports indicate, as was feared, that grouse are going to be scarce this season. The cold, wet spring and early summer took a heavy toll of the young birds.

Deer opened in GMA No. 10 this weekend and several parties from here are going into the high country of Lightning Peaks and the Galloping Hills in the Monashee Range, east of Lumby. This is a good bet for early season, alpine range hunting. The elk open in GMA No. 9 also this weekend and several local parties are heading for Elk Valley and Elk Lakes in the East Kootenays. Bull elk only will be legal game, this season in most of the Kootenays, with the cow elk closed. It is away past time that the cow elk season was stopped. The population of elk has greatly diminished in the past 10 years and I believe the decline has been taking of far too many of the female species.

The Fish and Game Club is again going to collect deer hides as a club project to raise finances for their work and all hunters are asked to donate their deer hides to the club. They can be left at the Frozen Food Lockers, or in barrels in the lane back of Treadgold Sporting Goods and I expect at the Rutland Sport Centre. The hide collection was a worthwhile project last year and no doubt will expand this season. Bear hides are also taken.

The club is calling a work party on Oct. 15 at the new Hatheume Lake campsite and parking lot to pick up, pile and burn the brush, tree tops and stumps that have been cleared for these sites. Public help is requested and more will be heard on this work party before the date selected.

The Kelowna Pistol Club is calling a fall international match on Sept. 23 and 24 at the Sportsmen's Field.

Good Fishing and Hunting!

Ashe Gives Credit To Pancho Takes Inside Track In Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe, the 1968 U.S. Open tennis champion, has the inside track on another title this year and he's giving part of the credit to Pancho Gonzales, a winner more than 20 years ago.

After his showdown with top-seeded defending champ Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., Thursday, Ashe said Gonzales helped him prepare for the match.

"I was out practicing my serve Wednesday and Pancho told me a few things I needed to work on," Ashe explained. "He told me I needed to work on my forehand."

Ashe worked on his forehand and put it to good use, but it was his blazing backhand and return of service that carried him past Smith, the Wimbledon titleholder, 7-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Today, a rematch between two of the world's top women is scheduled. Billie Jean King, last year's women's singles winner and top seeded, and Margaret Court, who won the title five times, will be meeting for the second time in two weeks. The last time, Mrs. Court, seeded fifth, was the winner. The other women's semi-final matches Chris Evert this year and he's giving part of the credit to Pancho Gonzales, a winner more than 20 years ago.

BEHAVIOR ON VICTORY STAND

U.S. Track Stars Banned

MUNICH (AP) — The International Olympic Committee executive board today banned United States track stars Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett from all future Olympic competition—including the 4-X-400-metre relay Sunday—because of their behavior on the victory stand.

An IOC spokesman said a letter about Matthews and Collett has been sent to Clifford Buck, the U.S. chief of mission, telling him of the banning, following the incident Thursday.

The spokesman said: "The IOC has expressed to Mr. Buck its displeasure and disgust at the demonstration by the American athletes after the 400 metres final.

Matthews won the gold medal and Collett was second. On the victory stand they did not stand at attention during the playing of the American anthem. The crowd whistled and jeered. Matthews later said they did not intend to be disrespectful.

The IOC told Buck in its letter, "This is the second time the U.S. Olympic Committee has permitted such behavior on the athletics field."

This apparently referred to the incident in Mexico City four years ago when John Carlos and Tommie Smith gave Black Power salutes on the victory stand.

The IOC spokesman made no mention that Matthews and Collett would be deprived of their medals. Presumably they will not.

At the traditional victory ceremony, Collett, barefooted, leaped up on the higher No. 1 stand occupied by Matthews.

Russia Big Winner Thursday

MUNICH (CP) — Nobody thought much of it the last time the United States came away from an Olympic Games with out a sprint gold medal; it happened in 1906, before they allowed the first woman to lace on a track shoe and before Jesse Owens had even been born.

American men and women collected five of the six golds available in the 100 and 200 metres and the sprint relay, in each of the last two Olympics. In the current Games, with only the relays left, they have yet to pick up their first.

They might have beaten Valery Borzov in the men's 100 if their runners had made it to the track in time for their heats, although nobody missed roll call when the Russian won the 200.

But the decline of the American sprinter was most convincingly shown Thursday when Renate Stecher of East Germany completed her double in the women's 200.

Russia was the big winner Thursday, taking four of the first-place golds.

Anatoly Bondarchuk won the hammer throw; Nadezhda Chizhova took the women's shot put; the equestrian team won the dressage and in another team event, the Russian women beat Japan to win the gold medal in volleyball.

The other golds Thursday were won by the U.S., in the men's 110-metre hurdles, and 400-metre dash, and the Netherlands, when Henk Kuiper took the individual road race.

HAD LOST BRONZE

The win was especially gratifying for Kuiper as the bronze he won earlier had been taken away because one of his team members had taken a drug which was banned by the International Olympic Committee.

In the unofficial point standings, based on the traditional 10-5-4-3-2-1 systems for the first six finishers, the U.S. remained on top with 597 points.

Russia is second with 558 and E. Germany has 432½. Canada is in 17th place with 32 points.

Canada's best showing Thursday was in dressage of the equestrian event.

The team finished sixth behind winning Russia. Christl Hofmann of Sharon, Ont., was eighth in the individual and became the first Canadian rider to win a place in the top 12 for the individual dressage final.

Canadian canoeists also fared well as three were good enough to advance to the semi-finals and two others won automatic berths when an adequate number of teams did not show to run races.

GLENDA SEVENTH

Canada's hopes of a medal in track and field practically vanished when Glenda Reiser of Ottawa finished fifth in a semi-final heat of the women's 1,500-metre run.

The 17-year-old Grade 12 student, who raced in the same company as world champion Ludmila Bragina of Russia in the preliminaries and was second, was boxed in early and pushed outside later.

If you've decided against electric heat because you were told its operating costs are too high, then chances are you haven't looked into Intertherm's electro-hydraulic...

HOT WATER HEAT WITHOUT PLUMBING

The accusation of high operating costs is a burden electric heat has had to bear. But with Intertherm's hot water electric heat, we have made a solution to this problem. Our heating system follows the principle of ordinary electric resistance heat, but it does the principle of economical hot water heat.

With almost a half million Intertherm installations under our belt it is simply amazing to us the number of people who write us telling how pleasantly surprised they were of the low operating costs.

And not only is Intertherm economical, it's also the most comfortable kind of heat you can provide for your own family. That's because it eliminates cold floors and cold drafts. And there's none of that "on-again, off-again" type of heat. Just smooth, even, comfortable heat.

It's also a healthful heat, now being recommended by allergists all over the nation and in Canada, for patients susceptible to combustion gases and "fired dust," caused by the hot heating surfaces of ordinary heating plants.

And finally, it is so absolutely safe, a child can stuff the flintiest stick and game into the heater-burners without the slightest danger.

Hurt Actress Out Of Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Actress Ann Miller, injured Aug. 14 at the St. Louis Municipal Opera, plans to leave hospital here soon and return to her home in Los Angeles.

Physicians said Miss Miller has a severe inner ear injury that affects her balance. She is unable to walk alone. She was treated for a head injury, bruises and cuts suffered when she was struck by a steel curtain during the opening performance of the production Anything Goes.

Elvis Hopes To Settle

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (Reuter) — Rock-'n'-roll singer Elvis Presley, his first marriage now in the divorce courts, said Monday night he hopes to settle down again to married life but at the moment has no marriage plans.

Presley made the remarks at a news conference called to announce a concert in Hawaii next Jan. 14 which will be carried by satellite to nearly 60 countries.

Presley, who blamed the break-up of his first marriage on his heavy commitments to concert work, said: "I would still like to have a family and home."

Presley announced that his international satellite concert—the first in rock concert history—will be televised to Australia, Japan, South Korea, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand, and South Vietnam.

Another General Follows Patton

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The producer of Patton is planning a movie about another general of the Second World War—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Richard D. Zanuck and David Brown announced MacArthur Wednesday as the first production under their new contract with Universal. The producer will be Frank McCarthy, who made the Oscar-winning Patton for 20th Century-Fox when Zanuck was production chief.

His Request Was Silence

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Conductor Zubin Mehta left the stage in anger because of coughing and creaking chairs in the audience, but the Latin American debut of the Israel Philharmonic orchestra still was a rousing success. After the audience of 3,000 persons froze into silence, Mehta, on loan from the Los Angeles Philharmonic, returned to the podium to finish the concert, which ended Monday night with 12 curtain calls and two encores. The 36-year-old Indian conductor has joined the orchestra for a 52-day tour through Latin America, the United States and Canada. Rio de Janeiro was the first stop as a tribute to Brazil's 150th anniversary of independence Sept. 7.

Paul Robeson Wins Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Robeson, the actor-singer whose affection for the Soviet Union aroused controversy after the Second World War, has been named the recipient of the National Urban League's Whitney Young Memorial Award. The choice of Robeson, 74, was announced Wednesday. The award will be presented Saturday during the half-time break of the Whitney Young Memorial Football Classic between Grambling College and Morgan College. Robeson lived for a number of years in Russia. He became a controversial figure when he refused to tell a congressional committee whether he had ever been a Communist.

Young Canadians Want More Cash

OTTAWA (CP) — The Company of Young Canadians is hoping for a budget increase of between 25 and 50 per cent to pay for an expanding number of projects. Dal Brodhead, executive director of the controversial government-supported agency, said today that in the fiscal year to March 31, 1972, the number of projects by the CYC had increased to 120 from 54.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

No It's Not Ecoli, It's Spelt E. Coli

By Ge: C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please write about a kidney infection called "Ecoli." Why does one get this infection so often, and what causes it and how can one control it?—V.B.

E. coli is a bacterium—short for Escherichia coli.

This is a good and useful form of bacteria as long as it stays where it belongs. But it can cause a good deal of mischief if it gets in the wrong place.

E. coli is a normal inhabitant of the bowel and causes no trouble there. In fact, you need it.

But when it gets into the urinary tract, it causes trouble. (Or, of course, if the germ gets into a cut or other place it doesn't belong, it can establish an infection.)

E. coli in the urinary tract primarily affects women because of their anatomy—the way they are put together. An important precaution is to use toilet tissue properly. "Properly" means moving the tissue from front to back. In the opposite direction, there is more chance of carrying E. coli to the genital area and urinary outlet.

However, more than just that can be involved. Any obstruction in the urinary tract can be a significant factor in recurrent infections. Therefore it is important to investigate conditions with cystoscope and X-ray (for the kidneys).

Several medications are used to suppress E. coli, so if one does not work, another can be tried.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am not sure it is gout that I have. My feet are cold when I go to bed. When I finally get warm, they swell and get fiery red and it takes an hour or so to get them cooled down so I can get to sleep. I may have frosted my feet in 1918 when I drove a livery team, and again maybe in 1936.—L.R.S.

You may well have damaged the circulation when your feet were frostbitten; the symptoms don't sound at all like gout. Have your doctor check you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am taking cortisone for arthritis. I've been told by several people that cortisone has an after-effect such as hair falling out, swelling of the limbs, and sores which have to have skin grafts to heal, etc. Is there anything in these tales?—L.L.

It's not "after-effects." It's "side effects." While you "several people" are not very accurate in the side effects they cite, it is true that cortisone has to be used with good judgment.

If side effects begin to develop then it's time to stop or reduce the cortisone. That's your doctor's responsibility, and I suggest that you trust his judgment. The "side effects" usually disappear with reduced dosage or discontinuance of the medication.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had surgery two months ago for cancer of the cervix, and my husband keeps remarking that I'm losing my mind because of it and that I'm ruined sexually. I can't tell any difference in myself on either item, although I have heard that women after a hysterectomy do lose their mind, which I don't believe.—L.L.

And you shouldn't believe it. Your husband ought to know better than to believe the things he's telling you, because they aren't true.

Opening lead—ace of hearts.

China finished fifth in the Olympiad and hence did not qualify for the semi-final round, but its team had the satisfaction of having met and vanquished all four countries—Italy, United States, Canada and France—that made it to the semi-finals.

They beat the Dallas Aces by 12 imps despite this hand where the Taiwanese could have gained 12 international match points instead of losing four.

With P. Huang and M. Tai North-South for the Chinese team—who used the Precision Club system throughout—the bidding went as shown. West led the ace of hearts and shifted to a club.

Tai realized that there was a danger of losing a heart, a club and two trump tricks (if West, for example, held the A-J-9 of trumps). So, in an effort to offset a second trump loser, he went up with the ace of clubs, cashed the diamond ace, discarding a club, and continued with the queen.

When East covered with the king, Tai ruffed, entered dummy with a heart, and discarded his last club on the jack of diamonds. At this juncture matters took a severe turn for the worse. West ruffed with the nine and played a heart which was trumped in dummy with the deuce and over-trumped by East with the seven.

A diamond return was ruffed by declarer with the queen and overruffed by the ace. When West now played a fourth round of hearts, East scored his jack of trumps to put the contract down two. The effect of Tai's method of play was that, instead of meeting his goal of saving one trump trick, he wound up losing four!

Had Tai known that the trumps were divided 2-2, he could have made the contract by tackling them right away.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, SEPT. 9

Aries (March 21-April 19): For millions this is a holy day. Any plans you worked out ahead of time might be scrapped because of current developments.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): There should be all the backlog of odds and ends you can tend, along with the details of your home and its management.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20): Bring your notebook, for by the end of the day's exploration you'll have enough ideas for a month's planning.

Cancer (June 21 - July 22): Where there are considerations on both sides of an issue, leave the balance alone to swing back and forth for a while longer.

Leo (July 23 - Aug. 22): Conditions tend to divert your drive from expected pathways. Stick with what remains feasible in your planned schedule.

Virgo (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Realize that your expectations may be stiff as others see them; make graceful adjustment. Gather reserves for possible use.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Emotion continues to tint your views of any issue. Your friends and rivals alike make use of any impulsive move you may make.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Turbulence in your environment arises from the doings of people and forces beyond your control. Seek inner serenity.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): A normal, or less pressured, routine Saturday should be your goal. Thrashing about in impatience results in lack of progress.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Winding up neglected details may be more important than trying to start a major project. Notes will be interesting later.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Let well enough alone. Realize when your advice has not been asked, and when it is falling on unresponsive ears.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20): If the idea gives you a peaceful short cut, it might work. Give yourself a break, contemplate your progress thus far.

CBC Steps Over Bilingualism And Has Eskimo News Release

OTTAWA (CP) — The CBC has gone a step beyond bilingualism here, it issued its first news release in Eskimo. The release, announced in English, Eskimo and French, the appointment of Patrick Thomas Reilly as manager of station CEBF in Etah, N.W.T.

An information officer of the CBC's northern services department said the bilingual announcement will be distributed in Etah's mail boxes since that community has no newspaper. Of Etah's 2,000 residents, 1,000 are Eskimo, 1,000 are Inuit and 1,000 are white.

no one had thought of bilingual news releases before. She added that the release was prepared before the Eskimo Brotherhood of Canada recently criticized the CBC for not programming in the Eskimo culture of language. Mr. Reilly, 29, has worked for the CBC since 1966 as an announcer in Yellowknife, Regina and Vancouver.

Doubts On Nuclear Plant Expressed In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Back in the mid-1950s, in the heyday of close Canadian-Indian friendship, Canada agreed to build its fellow Commonwealth state a nuclear research reactor.

As part of the deal, India undertook to ensure that "the reactor and any products resulting from its use will be employed for peaceful purposes only."

But there was no provision for on-site inspection.

Today, India could never get such an installation from Canada on the same terms—or the uranium fuel to make it work.

As one Ottawa official puts it: "Now that there is an inspection system, and techniques of verification have been developed, people don't accept the sort of commitment given by India as being precise enough."

The $20-million reactor, built at Bombay under a 1956 Colombo Plan agreement, has been a source of recurring embarrassment to Canada since it went into operation in 1960.

The Bombay plant and a similar one now being constructed by Canadian firms on Taiwan were the subject of a spate of reports not long ago from Washington and the United Nations, saying they were potential sources of plutonium for atomic bombs.

BOMBS POSSIBLE

The reports were based on findings of a panel of experts working under the auspices of the United Nations Association of the United States, a private organization.

The Bombay reactor was said already to have produced enough plutonium for up to 16 atomic bombs, while the Taiwan one, expected to begin operations next year, would swiftly yield enough to produce a first atomic bomb for Nationalist China.

Both reactors are modelled on Canada's NRX reactor at Chalk River, Ont.

The widely-published reports contained a note of unstated irony, since Canada has long been in the forefront of international efforts to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Easily capable of producing atomic bombs itself, Canada has nonetheless deliberately rejected this option while trying hard to encourage other "near-nuclear" nations—including India—to do the same.

Officials here dispute the estimate given in the United Nations association report of the number of bombs that India could make using the plutonium byproduct from its Canadian-supplied reactor. They say it would be eight or nine at most.

KEEPING ITS WORD

They insist that while India is obviously keeping open its choices, especially in view of China's continuing nuclear weapon development, India now is indisputably non-nuclear in a military sense.

"There is simply no evidence that the products of the Bombay reactor are being diverted to non-peaceful uses," said one source.

At the same time, Canadian authorities admit that they would sleep more restfully, if India signed the 170 non-proliferation treaty providing for international inspection to verify that non-nuclear-weapons states do not become nuclear-weapons states.

India has steadfastly refused to become a party to the treaty on grounds that it discriminates in favor of the big nuclear powers.

There is lingering fear here that, at some point, the Indian government may decide that overriding security considerations demand that it disregard the pledges made to Canada under the 1956 agreement.

The problem in relation to the $35-million Taiwan reactor is less deep-rooted, yet pesky enough. It comes from the fact that while Taiwan has voluntarily accepted International Atomic Energy Agency safeguards, including on-site inspection, the IAEA no longer recognizes Taiwan. The Vienna-based agency has transferred China's membership from the Nationalist regime on Taiwan to the Communist regime in Peking.

Canada's Economy Growing At More Than 6% This Year

OTTAWA (CP) — The economy has been growing this year at an annual rate of more than 6.5 per cent—the rate which the Economic Council of Canada has said is needed to close the unemployment gap in three years.

Statistics Canada reported last week that the gross national product—the total value of all goods and services produced in the country—ran at an annual rate of $102.09 billion in April, May and June.

This was a three-per-cent increase over the first quarter of the year, and it included an over-all increase of only eight-tenths of one per cent in price levels. The price factor was down sharply from 1.4 in the first quarter of the year.

Statistics Canada said that in the first half of 1972, the physical volume of output rose at a quarterly rate of 1.6 per cent.

If this rate is maintained for the balance of the year, it would mean a 6.54 per cent increase for the year.

The Economic Council of Canada surveyed Canada's economic performance and unemployment problem last November.

POT GUARDS

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Police raided a house on a tip there was marijuana there and found not only the pot but several live scorpions strategically placed to discourage snoopers.

ber and said a 6.5-per-cent average annual growth in output would be needed for three years to close the gap.

The gap in this case is the difference between what the country is actually producing and what it could be producing if its resources, including workers, were fully employed.

Unemployment still amounts to about six per cent of the labor force, and the council said the immediate objective should be to get it down to about 3.8 per cent.

A strong upsurge in personal expenditure on consumer goods and services was largely responsible for the second quarter boom in the economy, Statistics Canada said. This was led by purchases of new and used automobiles.

CANADA'S FISH HOOK A BRITON

TORONTO (CP) — Briton Jim Laing came here to fish and got hooked on becoming a Canadian.

Fishing isn't his only reason for wanting to stay, the 26-year-old Laing says, "but it sure helped me make up my mind."

His decision was made when he landed a 31-pound muskellunge in Georgian Bay after a half-hour fight. It measured 50 inches.

Mr. Laing, who came here in May for a three-week visit, applied for immigrant papers in June. He failed to qualify under Canada's point system but has appealed.

Research Takeover Urged

FREDERICTON (CP) — A suggestion that the federal government take over responsibility for all research conducted at Canadian universities has run into opposition here during the opening sessions of the 24th annual Conference of the Canadian Institute of Public Administration.

Douglas Wright, Ontario's deputy provincial secretary for social development, made the suggestion during a panel discussion on national policies for the financing of higher education.

The federal government could have achieved "a profound influence" on the direction of academic endeavors in Canada during the last 20 years had it financed university research more heavily.

Such a move would tend to fragment the university system in Canada by separating research programs from the general program of instruction.

A. B. Safarian, dean of graduate studies at the University of Toronto, said universities had a broader view of overall educational goals and should retain control of their programs.

TRISTAR PROVES POPULAR

This is a general view of the Farnborough Air Show in England which opened this week, with America's Lockheed Tristar, background, dominating the scene. The Tristar airliner, shooting for a billion dollars in orders, whispered over Europe's biggest aircraft display which for the first time was open to European manufacturers. The Tristar was the main attraction at the show.

Deadly Shots At Olympics May Upset Brandt's Hopes

BONN (AP) — The bullets that brought death to the 1972 Olympics may also have shattered Chancellor Willy Brandt's long-prepared reconciliation with the Arab world.

Three months ago, Egypt became the sixth country to pledge resumption of diplomatic ties with Bonn, seven years after the 10-country Arab break-off when West Germany recognized Israel in 1965.

Only five days before the Arab guerrilla operation that left 11 Israeli sportsmen dead in Munich, unofficial West German-Egyptian talks ended in the Olympic city with the announcement of a milestone visit to Bonn this month by Foreign Minister Mohammed Murad Ghaleb.

Now the visit—the first such since the 1965 break—appears in doubt. "Nobody knows," a foreign ministry spokesman said when asked if Ghaleb's visit is still on.

REACTION ANTI-ARAB
One newspaper called on the government to cancel the visit. The anti-Arab reaction in official circles was demonstrated by the resignation of Rudolf Werner from the co-chairmanship of an Arab-German friendship group in the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament. Werner, a member of the opposition, said he would not rejoin the group until Arab governments clearly condemn terrorism.

Brandt himself was clearly angered by the lack of response from Arab leaders to his personal appeal for intervention to save the Israeli hostages. A spokesman for the chancellor told the television audience Bonn's relations with Cairo have been strained because President Anwar Sadat refused help when Brandt telephoned him to ask for safe passage for the Israelis should West Germany let the guerrillas fly their hostages to Cairo.

Even Hans-Juergen Wischewski, the leading expert on the Middle East in Brandt's Social Democratic party and the chief architect of Arab-German reconciliation, said in a statement that the "murderous terrorism" has caused "irreparable harm" to the Arab name in West Germany and the rest of the world.

The disenchantment in the wake of Tuesday's tragedy was by no means one-sided.

"The killing could have been avoided if the German police had not deceived the Palestinians," a columnist wrote in the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al Ahran.

The Palestine Arab delegation at the United Nations accused the German authorities of "dirty and inhuman treachery" in opening fire on the guerrillas after telling them they could take the hostages to Cairo.

Cominco's 450 Try Break Away

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Close to 450 Cominco Ltd. workers attended the founding convention of the proposed Canadian Workers Union (CWU) Thursday night, as CWU supporters continued their efforts to break away from the United Steelworkers of America.

The convention adopted a constitution and elected officers for the proposed union, which would require support of 55 per cent of the 3,800 Cominco workers at Trail, Kimberley and Benson Lake to gain certification.

George Cady of Trail was named national president. Bill McCormick of Kimberley was chosen vice-president, and Bill Kassian of Trail was named financial secretary.

Untrusting Widow Robbed Of $100,000

PHILADELPHIA (Reuter) — An elderly woman who did not trust banks told police Thursday she was robbed of her life savings of $100,000 she had hidden in the basement of her home. Reba Hurwitz, 78, a widow, said the money was in two canvas bags she had stashed behind an oil heater. Half of it was in one dollar bills.

BUT HIS SMILE A WEIGHTLIFTER

MUNICH (AP) — The world's strongest man is 335 pounds of scowling but irresistible charm who is just a little afraid of his wife.

It takes little imagination to envisage Vassili Alexeyev, who won the Olympic super-heavyweight weightlifting gold back home in the town of Pokrovskishkin with his two sons on his lap or breaking into thunderous singing in the company of good friends.

Good friends, and Alexeyev has many of them inside and outside the Soviet Union, that is exactly what he does when he is not lifting weights.

After winning the medal the 30-year-old mining and forest engineer sat slumped heavily on a chair, head down and scowling under heavy, dark eyebrows at people asking autographs or interviews.

But then, in quick flashes of smiling charm, he lit up and talked about his wife, his sons—Dimitri, 9, and Sergei, 7—and of the problems of a man who stands five feet 10 inches and weighs 335 pounds.

NEEDS TWO BEDS

"In the Olympic village I pushed two beds together and made one of them," Alexeyev said. Friends recalled the trouble he had earlier this year in finding a bed big enough to accommodate his body during the European weightlifting championships in Romania.

Since he sleeps in two beds does he also have two wives? Someone asked.

"I would not mind," admitted Alexeyev, but then he hurriedly added: "My wife, of course, will understand that this is my joke only."

The strong man is too big to ride in ordinary cars, can never buy ready-made clothes, has a problem with seats at the cinema or theatre and feels a bit ashamed at his own appetite. He is also shy.

Park Opening On Sunday, Sept. 10

PEACHLAND (Special)—Arrangements for the opening of the Deep Creek Municipal Park was discussed at the first fall meeting of the Peachland Parks and Recreation Commission held Wednesday evening at the Community Hall.

The official opening of the Deep Creek Park Trail built this summer under a Federal Opportunities for Youth grant, will be handled by Mayor Harold Thwaite assisted by Parks and Recreation Chairman Don Wilson and Chamber director H. J. Williamson. The opening is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 10, and people will be invited to stroll along the trail and bridges to view the Deep Creek falls, a local beauty spot which up to this time has only been accessible to more agile members of the public. The new trail, approximately half mile in length, was built to make the area open to everyone. This project, in the building period gave employment to 12 local students at a total cost of $9,400. The commission commended the students on a job well done.

Attending this meeting was Mrs. Paul Glushenko, head instructor of the local swim program who gave her report of the year's work. She reported 183 children had participated in the Red Cross and Royal Life Saving swim courses.

She reported that the first session was extremely cold and there were few children who passed exams. A total of 61 children were examined and 64 were successful. The leaders' course held for the first time this year in Peachland was very successful with all four candidates passing exams. It was also announced that Mrs. Glushenko and Mrs. S. Holmes had attended a requalification clinic since the end of classes and had both requalified. The meeting commended Mrs. Glushenko for a job well done and thanked her for her report.

The financial picture of the commission was discussed at some length, and a recommendation to set up next year's budget noted.

A report was given on the commission's new policy of hiring two local high school students to work under the direction of the commission on parks and beaches.

This was found to be very successful and chairman Don Wilson recommended this be continued in future years, thus giving local students summer employment.
